OUT ON THE LIMB with George Vierhus

OVER THE YEARS that we have been exposed to the millions of words contained in various and sundry press releases across our desk, we have been able to build up a sort of an immunity to the glowing descriptions contained in many of them of some routine achievement.

A community newspaper such as this one is the recipient of hundreds of pieces of press releases via the mail each week.

Much of it has no news value and hence gets the "file 13" treatment after a cursory glance.

Admittedly there are a few "regulars" that are recognized by the markings on the envelope that hit the basket unopened.

But we have exercised care in that respect since the one time we tossed away a missive that contained a check.

Man alive, you should have seen us tearing the trash container apart when we discovered our mistake!

So we have developed a sort of ritual in opening the mail each day, our own grading system, so to speak.

-O-

SOME OF THE stuff is put aside to be examined more closely at a later date when a few choice items may be gleaned and used in this sheet.

Others are cast aside as hopeless. However, the mail generally always includes something that is interesting and usable which are duly "processed".

As an old pro at this sort of thing, we have come up with certain definite ideas of what to look for first starting with the address on the envelope.

Some of the senders try to give that "personal touch" by addressing the envelope to a particular individual who may be or may not be on the staff at the present time.

But that is not done as a rule by the real p.r. pros.; Most realize that people do come and go for one reason or another with the grim reaper taking his toll from time to time. It is quite a task in this mobile age to keep a mailing list up-dated.

And nothing gives away the lack of knowledge of a current operation so much as a letter addressed to an individual who has been away from the joint for many years.

-O-

THIS WAS BROUGHT home to us recently when a mailing piece arrived in the office addressed to "Mr. G. M. Allen, Campbell Press, IOOF Bldg., Campbell, Calif."

Your present editor-publisher has been here for 12 years. Mr. Allen, whom we never met, had been gone at least five years before that.

Incidentally, The Press a few weeks ago reported that Mrs. Edna Smith, long-time resident of this community, was being honored on her 90th birthday.

Mrs. Smith, with her husband before his death

Commission approves 3-2

Apartment plans rile residents

Residents in the area west of Virginia Ave. between Bucknam and Hacienda expressed their displeasure Monday night, both orally and by petition, at the Planning Commission meeting with the proposed plans for a 32-unit "town house" apartment complex planned at Virginia and the extension of Bucknam.

After almost two hours of discussion, the commission approved the proposed development by a 3-2 vote. (Two commissioners, Ed Pack and Thayer Lyons, were absent).

The motion to approve was made by Dean Chamberlin and seconded by Kel Young. Both indicated that they felt the proposed complex would not be detrimental to the area.

Merrill Grim and Frank Klein opposed the project which left Chairman Jack Healey to cast the "swing" vote.

But the residents present at the meeting indicated that there would be a repeat performance when the matter comes before the City Council probably on Monday, Aug. 28.

ZONE CHANGE

The commission action was on the application of Robert Meyer and associates for a zone change from R-1 (single family residential) to P-D (planned development) for a parcel extending 420-feet on Virginia and 180-feet deep on the extension of Bucknam that would be cut through to Virginia.

Under the P-D application, the proposed development calls for eight 4-unit apartment dwellings with a central recreation area with a swimming pool and also individual recreation areas for each unit.

Luis Pina, architect for the project, displayed numerous drawings of elevations and other phases of the project and emphasized that the intent was to develop one of the most attractive units in Campbell. He said they would not give the appearance of apartments but rather a "town house" or residential effect. Each unit would have 1100 square feet of space, he said.

The parcel involved, it was pointed out, contains 75,000 square feet and the applicant had met all the requirements for such a development, Dick Hogan, planning director, explained.

CITY PROPERTY

The development would require approximately 21-feet of city owned property on the northerly boundary of

City to award storm drain job on Monday night

Guesses of how involved traffic conditions on Campbell Ave. will be during the three-month construction period for the storm drain project are about to have their day of reckoning.

Next Monday night, Aug. 14, the City Council expects to award the contract for one of the final major links in this city's storm drain system.

The line will extend east on Campbell Ave. from Second St. to Los Gatos Creek. It will branch up Harrison Ave. to Grant and over to Third St.

It is estimated to cost approximately $90,000 and will be paid for from funds from the storm drain bond issue approved in 1959 and is hoped to be completed by November.

How to move traffic on the heavily-traveled Campbell Ave. during the 90-day construction period with the least amount of disruption has been a problem that has bothered the city engineering staff, Chamber of Commerce people and merchants in the con-

UNIQUE SUNFLOWER--Ted Larusson, 485 Waldo Road, shows off the unique sunflower growing in his back yard which has blossomed forth with 30 blooms. According to Larusson who checked with the agriculture department about his sunflower, the normal plant only produces one bloom.

Larusson has no explanation for the numerous blooms on his plant, which was transplanted by his six-year old grandson, Eric. Originally thought to be a walnut tree by the youngster, the many-bloomed plant has amazed and delighted the young green-thumber and grandfather alike. Twelve of the blossoms have been counted on the top with the other blooms scattered along the stalk.

ROASTED SUNFLOWER SEEDS--Quite a harvest is in the making at the Waldo Road residence of Ted Larusson. The gigantic plant has produced a total of 30 blooms, an extreme rarity according to all reports.

C of C office secretary is also "Miss Campbell"

CAROL MORENO --"Miss Campbell"

A "Miss Campbell" will be among the 15 attractive young women representing communities all over the county who will compete for the title of Miss Santa Clara County Fair in the pageant at the fairgrounds this Saturday, Aug. 12.

Miss Carol Moreno, 17, office secretary for the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, was selected this week by the C of C executive committee as a last minute entry in the field for fair queen. In addition, she will be this community's representative at other functions throughout the year.

The queen and two princesses will be selected at the beauty pageant this Saturday starting at 8:30 p.m. at the main grandstand. They will officially reign over the 23rd annual Santa Clara County Fair August 18-27.

The remaining 12 beauties in the contest will represent their communities as royal delegates to the festivities.

Miss Moreno, a 1967 Campbell High graduate, was an outstanding business student in high school when she was employed as office secretary by Jim Duffield, C of C manager, who is now manager of the Desert Hot Springs C of C.

She worked part-time from May 15 until she was graduated when she was employed full time in the Chamber office.

Len Edholm, for the past two years manager of the industrial and commercial development department of the Greater Bakersfield Chamber of Commerce, has been selected as Campbell C of C manager. He is scheduled to assume his duties next Monday, Aug. 14.

During the interim period between managers of almost a month-long duration, Miss Moreno, now also "Miss C[illegible]pbell", has efficiently handled the routine office work in the C of C office.

Building permits in Campbell show slight rise over last year

Valuation of all building permits issued since the first of the year total $2,713,534 exceeding the same period of last year by $50,000, according to Wally Byron, city building official.

For the first seven months last year the total valuation of the permits was $2,662,149.

Since the first of the year, Byron reports, there have been 64 permits issued for single family dwellings for $1,181,449. Of this number, 15 were taken out in July valued at $276,092.

There were two duplex permits for $45,400 and one multiple-unit permit for $37,359 issued during July. During the year so far, four duplex permits for $91,808 and eight multiples for $372,020 have been issued by the city's building department.

Two industrial permits for $103,856 were taken out in July and for the first seven months there have been 10 industrial building permits issued for $238,822. In July no commercial type building permits were taken out but since January 1, there have been 15 such permits issued for $[illegible]725.

During July three permits for swimming pools came to $8,800 and for the year so far there have been eight pool permits for a total of $29,000.

In July also there were seven alteration and remodeling permits for $22,532 and a total of 67 for the year for $167,727. One demolition permit ($500) was issued in July and there have been 12 for the year for $1,500.

In quest of World championship

Campbell-Moreland Pony All-stars advance to Utah

A determined band of underdog baseball players scratched and clawed their way to the sectional championship in Martinez last week and qualified for the Western Division Regional finals which begin today, August 9, at Springville, Utah.

A win in Utah will put the Pony Leaguers into the Western Division finals in San Bernadino the following week.

That series is the last step before the Pony League World Series.

The sectional finals at Martinez pitted three district champions from the central section of California plus Diablo Valley who hosted the tournament and thus drew a bye.

District 1 (East Bay) furnished Pittsburg; District 2 (Santa Clara Valley and Peninsula) Campbell-Moreland; District 3 (South Coast) the Santa Clara City team.

In addition to being host, Diablo was both defending sectional and regional champs of 1966.

WEDNESDAY

Wednesday night's action put C-M and Pittsburg in the opening game and Santa Clara and Diablo Valley under the lights. C-M swept by Pittsburg 6-1 with Bob Nickeson the winning pitcher and Tom Haney relieving the 6th and 7th innings.

D-V squeezed by S.C. City 4-3 and thus set up Thursday nights card bringing together the Wed. winners and the Wed. losers.

The losers played at 6 p.m. and Santa Clara City, Cinderella team of Pony baseball action this summer (two tournament wins the hard way - final day doubleheaders) put Pittsburg out of the tourney 9-8.

Down by two runs going into the bottom of the 7th, S.C. raged back and scored three runs on solid basehits.

Under the lights that night C-M frittered away a 6-0 lead but managed to hang on and walk off with a 6-5 win. Steve Hinckley was the winning pitcher and again fireman Tom Haney came on in relief in the top of the 7th.

FRIDAY

On Friday night Cinderella's fine coach changed back to a pumpkin as Diablo firmly and convincingly ended Santa Clara's tournament participation 8-1.

SATURDAY

This win set up the contestants for Saturdays final and it was a thriller all the way.

C-M won over Diablo Valley 3-0 with Bob Nickeson pitching superb ball throughout.

He gave up no walks and no D-V runner advanced beyond 2nd base. Two attempted thefts of second were thrown out by Steve Cannady.

Nickeson won his own game in the top of the 6th by squeezing home Steve Davis.

Steve had reached first at the expense of a fast ball on the hip. He promptly stole second and was sacrificed to third. The squeeze play was made doubly difficult because it came on a two-strike situation, with the second strike itself the result of a fouled off squeeze attempt. Diablo anticipated the second attempt but was unable to stop it.

Parking pains

As long as West Valley College remains in its temporary quarters in the old Campbell Grammar School site at Winchester and Campbell avenues, parking problems will arise that affect the good relationship that now exists between the college and the community.

Students at West Valley, despite pleas of the administration, persist in using the residential streets for parking. Yet, despite the curtailment of the parking area in the college parking lot because of the placement of the relocatable classrooms, there have been spaces available in Rincon lot when the residential streets have been clogged.

And the residents on these streets have rightfully objected to this inconsiderate attitude on the part of the students, for no one likes to have the street in front of his house constantly filled by "transient" students.

Obviously the city administration has long been aware of the objections of its citizens to this over-dose of residential street parking on the part of the students.

When the trustees of the West Valley College decided in an economy move to delete a $25,000 item from the college budget that was earmarked for acquisition of additional parking areas in Campbell, the City Council expressed concern over this particular deletion.

The City Council felt that every effort should be made to get the cars of the college kids off the residential streets and onto parking lots. Obviously if the lots were filled, more parking area would be needed. The Councilmen felt that the college should then be prepared financially to acquire additional lots.

We agree wholeheartedly with the City Council's contention.

At the college budget hearing, the council was represented as was the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, for the college parking situation has become an issue of major concern to the community as a whole.

And, as we said before, the problem will continue to exist until the college leaves its temporary location, if and when.

Although the college trustees did not replace the $25,000 in the budget, they did concede that the case presented to them on behalf of the city by Councilman Homer Hyde had merit.

It was agreed that should a parking crises develop, priorities could be changed and other funds could be allocated for parking areas.

While we realize that the parking problem is going to exist, no matter what steps are taken, we firmly believe that steps can be taken to alleviate the situation to a degree.

We believe that the college administration should be extremely firm in emphasizing that the students use the parking lots instead of residential streets.

We realize that this is apparently easier said then done.

We also are aware that, although overtime parking citations have been issued to college students by the bucketful, this has not deterred the students from parking on residential streets.

We also are well aware that it would be "discrimination", if the police officers would single out just college students in the issuance of overtime parking tickets.

We realize, of course, that all citizens, which includes students, have the right to park on the streets within the time limit prescribed.

Our point, of course, is that somehow it seems grossly unfair for the students to take such an unfair advantage of the hospitality of a community and its "permanent" residents.

Having seen some of these students "in action", we are of the opinion that they would scream the loudest, if the streets in front of their own homes were jammed all day as some are in Campbell.

The suggestion has been made that the "permanent" residents maybe could be issued special permits to park on their own streets without being penalized by the time restrictions.

In other words, a resident could park in front of his house and not be cited and thus would force the college student to seek other parking, preferably in the parking lot that is maintained by district taxes.

We think this permit bit may have merit.

At least, in some cases, it would make it possible for a party to visit a friend on First, Second or Third streets in daytime during the week without having to walk a couple of miles.

We believe this residential permit idea should be explored to the fullest.

It won't help the shopping centers or other privately-owned parking areas into which the students slip and slide. They will have to be controlled by the owners. But it certainly could help sooth the ruffled feelings of the home owners who are deserving of consideration.

Sure, we know, there will be those who loudly proclaim that the streets, by golly, belong to the public and the city has no right to keep the public, alias the college students, off'em.

That's all well and good except for one thing.

Some consideration should also be given to the long-suffering "public" who live on those streets and pay taxes to keep 'em up.

And, we might add, they also pay junior college district taxes.

We think the college students should recognize that this overall parking problem is a two-way street and should act accordingly.

and then for years afterward on her own, was a former owner and publisher of this newspaper. In all she was involved with The Press for 33 years, from 1912 to 1945.

The Press story on Mrs. Smith reported that she sold the paper in 1945 to the aforesaid Mr. Allen.

But between that time and when we arrived on the scene in 1955, there had been a number of changes in ownership. As a matter of fact, our 12-year tenure as publisher we figure, rates us second in ownership longevity to Mrs. Smith in the 72-year history of this newspaper.

Listing the address of The Press as the "IOOF Bldg." also certainly "dates" the mailing list of the firm, which, incidentally, was a paper manufacturer in Wisconsin.

True The Campbell Press one time occupied the street floor of the 60-year old Odd Fellows lodge which was torn down two years ago and is to be replaced with a new building this year at the same location, the corner of First and Campbell.

But The Press moved into its own building on Dillon Ave. in 1950. We suggest that it is about time that firm revised its address plates.

- O -

ANOTHER LETTER received recently illustrated a different approach.

It appealed to our more basic instincts, i.e., that self-esteem trait present in most newspaper people.

In purplish ink a two-line rubber stamp had apparently been used in directing the letter to "THE LEADING/NEWSPAPER".. followed by the hand-written "Campbell CA, and the proper zip code number.

Naturally it found its way into the post office box of The Press. (We hope that Jim Hurley, Dick Adams, and their local postal crew, didn't have to ponder too long on that one or we are in trouble.)

- O -

THAT PARTICULAR press release happened to be from the postmaster in Palo Alto, Warren Arbuckle, who apparently originally hailed from western Colorado.

The release reported that former residents of the towns of Fruita, Loma and Mack, Colorado are to hold an all-day picnic in Mitchell Park, Palo Alto on Aug. 20. All former residents and friends of western Colorado are invited to attend. Those interested can get further information from the postmaster in Palo Alto.

He asked that the announcement appear as a news item but, if that wasn't possible, he would pay for a classified ad.

We are curious as to how many newspapers were on his mailing list and if they all were addressed as "The Leading Newspaper"-- filling in the name of the particular town.

In some instances the postal crews might possibly have a difference opinion on the subject.

- O -

BUT THE GUY was a postmaster who sent it out and should know how postal crews think about such matters. He probably figured that in the traditional manner, the mail would get through...and to the right party.

Come to think of it, Postmaster Arbuckle of Palo Alto achieved his objective in Campbell. He got the publicity in this column for his picnic. We didn't even take him up on his offer to buy a classified ad.

We must have rocks in our head.

On the other hand, being the "leading newspaper in Campbell" does carry some responsibility.

We hope the good people from FRUITA, LOMA and MACK enjoy their picnic.

And, if there are any of the former west Colorado residents in this area who attend, remember you saw the news item in this community's leading newspaper.

Apartment

the parcel fronting on the extension of Bucknam Ave. The city some years ago had purchased a strip of land in order to connect Bucknam with Virginia.

A 20-foot southerly portion of this city-owned strip is not needed in the street improvement. Under an agreement suggested by the city, the apartment developers would acquire this 20-feet in "exchange" for improving one-half of the Bucknam extension.

Planning Director Hogan in his report to the Planning Commission had recommended approval of the development, emphasizing that the design was architecturally pleasing and would enhance the development in the area without being detrimental to the existing single family areas adjacent to it.

Hogan vigorously defended the principle that the city must pursue a policy of reasonable residential development on a concentrated basis. He said such orderly developments would actually be doing the residents of the area a favor. Finding adequate "open space" in the future for the increased population will be a severe problem, he cautioned.

Commissioner Klein, in opposing the plan, maintained that the property had been zoned R-1 when it was purchased and that it still could be developed in that manner. He said that it was unfair for developers to ask the Planning Commission "to bail" them out just because they had paid too much for property.

RESIDENTS

A large delegation of residents of the subdivision just west of the proposed apartment project (Bucknam, La Plata Plaza, Via Ranchero and Torero Plaza) was present at the commission hearing.

One of the spokesmen of the group was Jack Wade, 875 La Plata Plaza, who also had submitted a letter of protest. Wade explained that his property backed up to the complex and emphasized that the 32-units would bring noise and traffic to the residential area.

Dale Smith, of 908 La Plata Plaza, presented a petition containing 109 names of residents in the area opposing the apartment house complex.

Another speaker was William Dixon, of 916 Bucknam, who served on the finance sub-committee of the citizens advisory committee and is also a member of the citizens committee for the passage of bonds.

Dixon maintained the Bucknam-Via Ranchero area adjoining the proposed complex was strictly single-family residential and that the people purchased their homes there because of that reason. He maintained that two-story apartments adjacent to the homes would be in opposition to the basic concept.

Another speaker was Mrs. Dorothy Diaz, of 1083 Bucknam, who reiterated the objections of the others.

Pete Mesa, who said he was one of the original owners of the property, and that he opposed two-story apartments being constructed on it was one of the last in the audience to voice objections.

After the commission's divided vote, Chairman Healey advised those present that they had the right to present their case again when the City Council acted on the matter.

The residents emphatically indicated they planned to do just that.

Planners deny variance for service station

By denying the request of Phillips Petroleum for a variance for below minimum square footage (16,500 instead of 17,000) for a service station, the Planning Commission Monday night did not have to act on two other requests of the oil company on the agenda that were dependent on the variance approval.

The commission by a 4-1 vote (Merrill Grim opposed) turned down the request of Phillips for a variance for the station at Hamilton-Winchester, which has operated for more than 10 years on a non-conforming basis.

The oil company wanted to install an additional pump island for which a use permit was necessary. But the majority of the commissioners felt that the company should first acquire additional land to meet the city's maximum requirement so that the entire station could be remodeled.

Company spokesmen had indicated that the firm was negotiating for additional land now that the strip to allow access off Hamilton had been acquired.

The service station in question has been operating for more than 10 years even before Hamilton Ave. extended past Winchester. It still can continue to operate without any changes as a non-conforming use.

In other actions, the commission approved the plans for a 8-unit apartment at 201 Rose Court submitted by John Lubetich and the three-lot parcel map for the Bykowski family for property at Llewellyn and Hamilton.

The commission also gave approval to the proposed 57-lot single-family subdivision on the south side of Westmont east of Harriet to be built by Pyramid Homes.

Also approved was the proposed amendment to the city's ordinance regulating billiard parlors, specifying that such establishments must have three or more tables.

The commission in another action prezoned five parcels on Crockett Ave. between Eam and Westmont now in the process of being annexed to the city. Action on the appeal of Al Art from the planning director's denial of their application for a pole sign for Deacon Jones at 2495 Winchester was continued at the request of the applicant.

struction area for many months.

Tentative plans call for one lane (westbound) of traffic to be open on Campbell Ave. at all times and the construction to be by a block-by-block basis. Traffic would be detoured on the south side of Campbell Ave. onto Everett or through the co-op dryer yard.

The line will go down the south side of Campbell Ave. from Second to the railroad. From the railroad to the creek it will be on the north side. This crossover is necessary because of a cement slab that is beneath the road surface.

Although the storm drain project contract is expected to highlight the council meeting, a heavy agenda faces the councilmen, including a letter of protest from a San Jose attorney concerning the huge Winchester drive-in theater sign.

First reading will also be given the ordinance calling for the city bond election on Oct. 24. The council will also have a number of items before it that have already received the prior approval of the Planning Commission.

15 YEARS AGO

Although Campbell garbage ordinance went into effect yesterday the City Council's decision to award a contract was deferred until next meeting to study two proposals submitted Monday night.

AIN'T SHE SWEET?--Second vice president Mrs. William Law comes out for peace while Mrs. Mary Budalich looks on.

Members of the St. Lucy's Young Ladies Institute No. 204 gathered recently at the California Street home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Boudreault for a fun-filled evening in honor of their out-going Institute Deputy Miss Eleanor Rose and their newly appointed District Deputy, Mrs. Edward Pasquel.

Theme for the gay evening was "Hippie's Flower Children" and appropriate decorations in the pool-side area helped set the mood as the 76 costumed members of the newly-created "Hippie Set" gathered for the potluck dinner and swim party.

Taking their cue from the party theme, members of the group dug deep in their clothes closets and came up with appropriate poster material, costume jewelry, wigs and flowers of all materials. The results of the psychodelic ventures proved to be hilarious entertainment during the evening festivities.

DeMolay-Rainbow has Cybernetic Relay dance

All manner of electrical devices of the present and the future set the theme of the joint Rainbow and DeMolay dinner dance which was held recently at the Grange Hall in Campbell.

Around 140 people attended the festivities sponsored by Blossom Valley #147, San Jose #5 Rainbow For Girls and Campbell Chapter Order of DeMolay.

The Cybernetic Relay started out with a spaghetti dinner cooked by mothers of the members of the organizations, followed by dancing to the lively music of The Beggar's Opera band.

Decorations for the Cybernetic Relay consisted of an electrical circuit (or relay) around the entire room in the style of an electrician's diagram. Crepe paper was applied to the walls in two parallel lines, with the decorators keeping all angles of the paper wire sharp and crisp like the wires inside of walls of buildings. simulated electrical appliances from connected cardboard collage making a complete relay around the room.

Appliances were made by Gail Obsenic, Kathy Williams, Ken Hall, Stephen Brawner and Nick Harrison.

Engagement announced

A buffet dinner for 130 guests and champaign toasts marked the announcement of forthcoming marriage plans for Miss Rosalie Ann Castello and Roger Martarano.

The betrothal was disclosed during a formal party given at the History Club of Los Gatos by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Castello, 1730 Cherry Drive.

Roger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Martarano Sr. of San Jose, was graduated from Willow Glen High School and is now majoring in Law Enforcement at San Jose City College and plans to enter the field of Criminal Investigation.

The future Mrs. Martarano was an alumna of Del Mar High School and graduated from M. T. I. Business School in San Jose. She is currently enrolled in data processing classes at San Jose City College and is employed at Lockheed Missiles and Space Company in Sunnyvale.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Neighborhood carnival

Doug Bedard, 12 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Bedard, 2012 Via D' Este saw a TV program on Muscular Dystrophy recently and was inspired to do something about helping out the research program.

Casting about for ways of earning money for the project, he decided to put on a neighborhood Carnival, and with the help of his friends and parents set the big day for Tuesday, August 8.

Doug served as ringmaster for the event with Mrs. Bedard pressed into service as refreshment provider.

Assisting Doug was Kim and Kathy Davis, Bruce Bedard, and Jim Rypstra.

All proceeds went to aid the fight against dystrophy.

The enterprising young promoter will be attending seventh grade at Castro junior high school next year.

Anyone interested in contributing to the fund may call Doug. Through an oversight the prestory about the carnival was omitted from last week's paper.

New Zealand cadets viewing bay area

Mrs. Charles Fleming, 919 Hedegard Avenue, who is also Chief Warrant Officer, Squad 114, San Jose Auxilliary Air Force, is presently escorting eight New Zealand cadets around the bay area. The young men, all 17 or 18 years old, are in the San Jose area for a week as part of the exchange cadet program being carried out between the United States and other nations

Last week Mrs. Fleming had eight other young men under her wing from Germany. The exchange cadets arrive from Vandenberg Air Force base escorted by Lt. Col. Davies, and during their week here will enjoy a tour of the Ford plant, a tour of the USS Enterprise and a cabana party. Purpose of the exchange visits is to give the young men a glimpse of American home life.

Nine of the area cadets will be leaving for Alaska during the week. Mrs. Fleming who has been in the Auxiliary Air Force for a number of years is also the mother of three children and the grandmother of two. Her husband is presently connected with the scientific staff at Lockheed.

Auto Thefts Increasing

NEW YORK—Auto thefts in the United States nearly doubled in the 10 years from 1956 to 1965, according to the Insurance Information Institute. The number of cars stolen rose from 253,900 in 1956 to more than 486,000 in 1965.

West Valley College to bring top personalities here during year

Sen. John Tower of Texas is among a potent list of top personalities scheduled to appear at West Valley College during the 1967-68 year, under the auspices of the college's Community Services program.

Sen. Tower is scheduled for Sept. 26.

Other top names who will appear include Olympic decathlon champion, the Rev. Bob Richards, Oct. 5; noted singer Glenn Yarbrough, Nov. 7; French matinee idol Charles Aznavour, Nov. 23; award-winning author Erskine Caldwell of "Tobacco Road" and "God's Little Acre" fame, Jan. 30.

Also scheduled to appear include famous comedian and social critic Dick Gregory, April 22; one of the late President John F. Kennedy's top advisors, John Kenneth Galbraith, who was U.S. Ambassador to India from 1961 to 1963, April 4; Dr. Hans Morgenthau, University of Chicago professor, a leading American political scientist; and Saul Alinsky, leading authority on the problems of urban sprawl.

REV. RICHARDS

Rev. Richards gained international fame when he shattered the Olympic pole vault record in 1952 in Helsinki, and was U. S. decathlon champion for three years in a row. In 1957, the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce named him as one of the 10 Outstanding Young Men in the United States.

He is an ordained minister of the Church of the Brethren, although presently on inactive status, and is one of the most sought-after speakers in the country.

CONCERTS

Glenn Yarbrough will present two concerts in his appearance here, at 2:30 p.m. and at 8:15 p.m., sponsored jointly by the Associated Student Body of West Valley College and the Office of Community Services. His two-hour show is considered one of the most exciting and entertaining on the current scene.

Aznavour is one of the foremost entertainers in the world today, a man of captivating magnetism, who sings songs only that he himself has written, and he has written over 500 of them. He has made successful tours of the United States and Canada and has appeared on Broadway with his "one-man" show.

Erskine Caldwell is one of America's literary giants, and his latest novel "Miss Mama Aimee" was published this year, following a book of essays "Writing in America" which came out last year. He is a perceptive observer of the contemporary scene.

Three other major events will occur between the appearance of Caldwell and Ambassador Galbraith.

PHILHARMONIC

On Feb. 2, the home-grown but highly skilled Santa Clara Philharmonic will present a concert under the baton of Dr. Gibson Walters, and on Feb. 20, noted philosopher-economist Robert Heilbroner will deliver a talk. He is currently a visiting professor on the graduate faculty of the New School of Social Research, is the author of a number of books and papers and is moderator of a television program. Then, one of the major artistic events of the season will occur on Mar. 5, with the appearance of the National Ballet of Peru with beautiful dances, exciting rhythms, that capture the true spirit of that country.

GALBRAITH

Galbraith, former editor of Fortune magazine, has long been active in the Democratic Party, and is currently national president of Americans for Democratic Action. He was an early and active supporter of President Kennedy and associated with him in numerous political and governmental activities.

Morgenthau was a top advisor to President Truman in the State Department, and to the Department of Defense in 1961. He has written a number of books, including the standing textbook of postwar international relations "Politics Among Nations."

Alinsky has been touring the country in recent years serving as advisor on urban redevelopment and slum elimination, and Gregory has divided his time between his comedy work and in dedicated service to the civil rights movement.

U C. graduates include eight from Campbell

Eight students from Campbell at University of California, Berkeley, received degrees or professional certificates this year is was announced following a final review of academic records.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

In 1935 President Franklin D. Roosevelt told Congress:

"The Federal Government must and shall quit this business of relief...Continued dependence upon relief induces a spiritual and moral disintegration, fundamentally destructive to the national fiber. To dole out relief in this way is to administer a narcotic, a subtle destroyer of the human spirit."

Three decades later despite FDR's warning, relief seems permanently etched into our national policy. In these relatively prosperous times the United States has a million more people on relief than it had during the height of the depression--some 8.5 million. The annual cost is $7 billion in direct relief and many more billions which indirectly aid the unemployed through private charities and other federal programs.

In its July 17 issue, the magazine U. S. NEWS & WORLD REPORT notes that the number of people on relief during the past ten years has increased by 50%. The magazine says: "Instead of temporary aid, relief has become a permanent way of life for millions."

Today almost five million persons are getting aid under the dependent children program which accounts for 80% of the relief roll in most major cities. It will soon cost more than a billion dollars annually in New York City where the welfare rolls grow at the rate of 12,000 per month.

This welfare load is often cited as justification for the anti-poverty program which is aimed at breaking the cycle of persistent poverty and welfare. The present outlook is for even more welfare. President Johnson has proposed increases of 7 to 10% with a new program for establishing state minimums and standardizing welfare payments. Welfare recipients are being organized, often by anti-poverty workers, to "demand their rights." Fresh and inexperienced college graduate social workers are almost forced to hand out an average of $250,000 each year in federal and state welfare payments. Each social worker must handle sixty cases on a continuing basis so proper counselling and efforts to secure employment simply are not possible with such a case load. Therefore, young graduates with little or no business experience soon find their only alternative is to act as a wholesaler of welfare money.

Long ago I advocated a relaxation of welfare law so that the child of a recipient could earn some money without having it deducted from his parents' relief check. My theory was that we needed incentives for people to break the relief pattern, to acquire work habits and learn self-sufficiency which could eventually lead to independence from welfare.

The Santa Clara Re-employment Service Office headed by Mr. Merc Maran, has done wonders in securing employment for welfare recipients, but could do even more with such a relaxation of welfare law.

It was gratifying last week to see the House Ways and Means Committee, after these many long years, write such a provision into the new Social Security bill. This new policy won't make President Roosevelt's prediction come true, but it could help to slow down the rate at which we are becoming a welfare state.

K.E. FALLGATTER

Final rites were held Aug. 8 for Kane Edward Fallgatter, 94 E. Rosemary Lane who passed away recently at the age of 60. An employee of the Southern Pacific Railways for the last 23 years, he was a member of the Switchman's Union 101.

Fallgatter, who was born in San Jose, is survived by his wife, Mrs. Frances Fallgatter. He was the father of Edward Fallgatter of San Jose and Mrs. Bernice Edwards of Biggs, Calif.

Requiem Mass was celebrated Tuesday morning at St. Lucy's Catholic Church with Holy Rosary recited at the Campbell Memorial Chapel. Final interment was in the Santa Clara Catholic Cemetery.

ALICE G. JENKINSON

Funeral services were held August 4 for Mrs. Alice Gertrude Jenkinson, 68, 1248 Audrey Avenue who was fatally injured last week when struck by a car while crossing West Cliff drive near the beach area in Santa Cruz.

Mrs. Jenkinson was vacationing at the time of the accident. She was accompanied by her son, Oliver Wayne Jenkinson, 22, also of Campbell. Jenkinson was also struck down by the car but escaped serious injuries.

A native of Michigan, Mrs. Jenkinson came to California in 1907, moving to the Campbell area in 1946. For the past eight years she has served as financial secretary of the First Methodist Church of Los Gatos.

She was a lifelong member of the Women's Society of Christian Service.

Survivors include her son Oliver, another son David of Carmel Valley; two daughters, Mrs. Marcia Miller of Campbell and Mrs. Phillis Vickers of San Jose; three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Campbell man takes course in South Dakota

John Allen, of Campbell, was among the college instructors from 15 states and three foreign countries who completed attendance at a six-week Institute in the Dynamics of Engineering Processes at South Dakota School of Mines and Technology in Rapid City.

The National Science Foundation supported institute is designed to acquaint teachers with advanced developments in engineering and science.

These 28 instructors are participating in classes of computer science, thermodynamics, chemical kinetics and process dynamics from 8 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. Monday through Friday.

Afternoons are spent in laboratory work where digital and analog computers are utilized and the newly-equipped process dynamics laboratory in the chemical engineering laboratory is being used for the first time.

SJ State curtails fall semester

San Jose State College will not accept further applications from new students for the fall semester, President Robert D. Clark has announced.

The directive, which is now into effect followed an executive order from Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke requesting the presidents of the California State Colleges to stay within two per cent of their budgeted FTE (full-time equivalent) of students for the next year.

"We will continue to process applications already on file until the College's budget limitation of 17,110 FTE, or approximately 22,100 actual students, is attained," President Clark said. To date, SJSC has received 19,600 applications from new students seeking admission for the fall semester. "We shall keep a close watch on admissions and if any vacancies occur we shall admit other students." Clark added.

Industrial Deaths

NEW YORK—The number of industrial fatalities per 100,000 workers in the United States hit a new low of 20 in 1965, the Insurance Information Institute reports. This compares with 35.7 fatalities for 100,000 workers in 1941.

Fatality rate on California highways drops during 1966

The fatality rate on the California State highway system dropped to a new all time low in 1966, according to the State Department of Public Works.

Research just completed by the California Division of Highways revealed a rate of 4.47 persons killed for each one hundred million miles of vehicle travel.

More simply stated, 2,194 accidental deaths occured as traffic moved over 50-billion vehicle miles on 14,308 of State highway. The number of miles driven was up two billion over 1965 but four less people were killed.

NEW LOW

The statewide rate--4.79--was a new low. Statewide there were 4,830 persons killed and 101-billion miles driven on approximately 165,000 miles of thoroughfare. It is the first time the state rate has been below 5.

Statewide system mileage includes city streets, county roads, state highways and miscellaneous thoroughfares. State highway system mileage includes freeways, expressways and conventional highways.

The death rate on State highways has been going down for the past four years. It was 5.34 in 1963, 5.24 in 1964 and 4.79 in 1965. Had the 1963 rate been in effect during 1966, there would have been 875 more fatalities on State highways.

Although the improved rates are encouraging, State Highway Engineer John Legarra says that Californians still are faced with an extremely serious traffic safety problem and cites last year's 4,830 victims as proof of its magnitude.

FACTORS

Factors that have brought about improvements, says Legarra, are law enforcement activities spearheaded by the California Highway Patrol, educational efforts directed by the Department of Motor Vehicles, and cooperation to both from local groups and individual citizens.

Legarra cited the spot improvement program of the Division of Highways as an additional reason for the drop. The latter is a continuing project through which accident-prone locations are identified by a computor, the necessary modifications arrived at by a Division engineer and physical modifications made by a contractor.

Approximately 500 spot improvements are completed.

FREEWAYS SAFER

Freeways led during 1966 in providing safety to drivers. The 2,059-mile network carried more than a quarter of all miles driven and experienced a rate of only 2.61. On freeways there were 723 persons killed, 16,907 injury accidents and 23,216 accidents in which only property damage occurred.

On the 734 miles of expressway, the rate was 6.5 with 263 killed, 3,540 injury accidents, and 5,002 property mishaps.

Conventional highways had a rate of 6.97 with 1,208 killed, 24,277 injury accidents and 41,574 property damage mishaps.

The combined 12,249 miles of expressways and conventional highways carried just slightly less traffic than did freeways. The remaining 50 percent of travel took place on city streets, county roads and miscellaneous thoroughfares.

PARTICIPATE IN SWIM MEET--Pictured above are some of the members of the Campbell Swim Club who participated in the recent James Lick High Championship swim meet.

Campbell swim team splashes to victory in recent meet

Approximately 45 children, ages 6 to 17, have found a way to beat the heat this summer by turning out daily, Monday through Friday to practice with the Campbell Swim Club team between the hours of 4:30 and 6:30 p.m. at the Campbell High school pool.

The swim club which is part of the Campbell Union High School District recreation program is coached by Bill Augenstein assisted by Bob DuBoise, and both boys and girls are entering in various meets during the summer. According to Augenstein anyone in the age group interested in swimming is welcome to turn out and practice with the group.

At the recent James Lick High Championship Swim meet Mark Pearson was high point trophy winner in his age group bringing home a first in the Butterfly, Breast stroke and free style in the 9-10 age boys. Local resident suffocated in ground clay bin Alfredo T. Gonzales, 365 San Tomas Road, suffocated last week when he fell into an 18 foot deep bin of clay at the San Jose Brick & Tile Ltd. 1916 Fruitdale Avenue where the young man was employed for the last month.

Apparently no one noticed Gonzales falling into the bin which contained three tons of ground clay used in making bricks. It was approximately one hour later that Baldemero Flores, a brick-making machine operator noticed a shovel sticking out of a spout leading from the bin. Members of the Sheriff's Rescue Squad and San Jose firemen were called to dig the victim's body out, and noted at that time that he was not wearing a safety belt.

The body was removed to the Lima-Salmon-Erickson funeral home and was shipped to Yahulica, Jalisco, Mexico where funeral services will be held. Gonzales, who was 22, is survived by his father, Jose Gonzales.

Coins valued at $8,256 turned in bank for $45

Campbell police last week investigated the complaint of Chalmers H. Lamberson, 1794 Whitwood Ave. Apt. 2, who arrived home August 3 to find that a screen had been removed, the window opened and a grey metal strong box containing a coin collection estimated at the value of $8,256 and a gun had been taken. No other articles were taken or disturbed, indicating a knowledge of the apartment.

Investigation by the police indicated that two juveniles were possibly involved in the burglary, and one has been picked up for questioning by the police. The strong box was found abandoned between Mayfair Market and Bucknall Road by Aldo Fontana who contacted the police department at the time of discovery. The personal papers were recovered.

Police ascertained that the two suspects had removed the coins from their collection containers, rolled the money in coin wrappers and turned the money in at a Campbell bank for the face value of $45. Four rolls of pennies have been recovered.

Supplementary evidence indicates that the juveniles were possible users of LSD and marijuana.

Firemen rescue two trapped in burning house

Last Wednesday night, Aug. 2, 18 men from the Campbell Fire Department responded to an apartment fire at 24 S. 2nd St. and were able to confine the flames to the upper story of the two story building.

The old building, which had been remodeled into apartments and recently renovated belonged to Leonard Pritchard. Injured in the fire was Carlos Rivera, 24, in whose apartment the fire started. Rivera, who was outside when firemen arrived, apparently smashed his way through an upstairs window to escape. Rescued by firemen were two other occupants of the upstairs, Rod Karnofel and Sue Williams who were crouched on a ledge on the second floor. They were unable to escape by the stairwell, which was engulfed in flames.

According to Fire Marshal Eugene Borden cause of the fire is still undetermined.

On Aug. 1 a house at 93 Sunnyside Avenue was completely gutted by flames caused by an iron left plugged in by unknown tenants who were not at home at the time of the fire. The building was owned by Orville Cole.

College board adopts budget without $25,000 parking item

West Valley College Board of Trustees gave unanimous approval to a general fund budget of $5,732,983 and a special reserve fund budget of $4,733,942 and sent them on, without change, to the County Superintendent of Schools, despite a plea of the City of Campbell to retain a $25,000 item for parking that had previously been deleted.

Later this month, the budgets will go to the Board of Supervisors for final adoption and setting of the district tax rate, which is unofficially estimated at about 63.5 cents per $100 of valuation, some 6 1/2 cents lower than the originally estimated rate of 70 cents.

Part of the reduction came from elimination, at the board's July 20 meeting, of $225,000 from the budget, $25,000 for additional parking facilities and $200,000 for additional portable classrooms for the Campbell site.

The elimination of the parking proposal was questioned by Campbell City Councilman Homer Hyde, who expressed that City's concern over its elimination, "with increased enrollment and increased problems" that would result in Campbell in the fall semester. Hyde, along with Councilman Charles Rose and Don Kennedy of the Chamber of Commerce, attended the budget hearing.

Hyde was assured by board members that efforts would be made to induce students to use parking facilities on the Rincon lot, not now being fully utilized. Also, board members told him that there still would be funds, in the District's undistributed reserve, to provide for parking if needed.

Trustee Robert Sorensen suggested that the Campbell Police Department issue "resident stickers" for the automobiles of persons living in the area around the college, and establish limited parking for others.

The board also instructed its architects, Higgins and Root, Los Gatos, to proceed with the development of detailed working plans and specifications for four relocatable buildings on the Saratoga site, to be used for shower-locker, equipment rooms, and toilet facilities in connection with the swimming pool which will be constructed during the current school year.

OTHER MATTERS

In other matters, the Board:

Authorized calling for bids on over $40,000 in electronic equipment under provisions of the Vocational Education Act.

Created the position of Financial Aid Officer to help students in obtaining Economic Opportunity Grants, with Loan Programs, Scholarships and the Work-Study Program. The position, to be operated on a three-fifths basis the first year, will be a classified one, and will pay in the $644-782 range.

Approved a schedule of payments for payment of State contributions to the cost of construction of the Engineering-Technology Building on the Saratoga site. Dr. Wallace W. Hall, college president, and James W. Hardy, dean of business services, had worked out an agreement with representatives of the State Department of Education for disbursement of the State contributions to the building cost.

Approved claims totaling $125,659.13.

Revised their Policies and Procedures to provide for annual rotation of the Board's officers.

Appointed James R. Taylor of Santa Clara, as counselor and instructor in English.

Renewed existing lease with the Union School District for use of the Dartmouth School for evening classes offered by the College at the same rate as for 1966-67.

Reassigned Mrs. Melanie A. Formento from clerk-typist to secretary I to work in the President's office, effective September 1, and appointed Mrs. Margaret S. Poulsen, Campbell, as clerk-typist in the admissions and records office.

Jaycees kickoff drive for new members

The month of August kicks off the Campbell Junior Chamber of Commerce three month membership drive culminating in October with a district meeting at which time the state Jaycee president will present awards to the members bringing in the most new members. Membership in the active organization presently stands at 20 according to Roger Hughes, membership chairman in charge of the drive, who hopes to see the roll include 30 new members at the end of the drive.

The organization is open to young men 21 to 36 years of age interested in community developement and leadership training. Campbell Jaycees have aided the community in many ways with their projects which include the Campbell Avenue park, flags for commerical establishments, blood drives Junior sport programs, carnivals and car safety check-outs.

Jaycees history goes back to 1920 when its founder, Henry Giessenbier, Jr. saw a need for a civic organization which could assist in community affairs plus have functions for social purposes.

Campbell Jaycees meet at 7:30 p.m. on the second and fourth Tuesday of each month at Fedor's Restaurant on Campbell Avenue. Persons interested in obtaining more information on the local program are asked to contact Hughes at 378-4484 or Jerry Gomes, 379-3471, or are invited to attend one of the Tuesday evening meetings.

Awards for bringing in the most new members include a free trip to the state convention in Santa Rosa; two tickets to the 49'ers Football game or a free dinner.

Wives of the Jaycees members also have a club called the Jaycettes spearheaded by Mrs. Gail Dalzell. Mrs. Dalzell who is an active member of the lively group can be reached at 378-2746.
